LONG LITIGATION ENDED.

A Law-suit Begun in 1881 Over a Sullivan County Coal Mine. Terminated on October 5th 1895, by a Decision of the Supreme Court.

A Sullivan county law-suit, started fourteen years ago, has recently been brought to a close. As it involved some nice points of law as well as some interesting facts, a brief history of the case is given below.

Ex state senator Geo. D. Jackson of Dushore, died some years ago, claiming to be the legal owner of 103 acres of coal land in Cherry township, Sullivan County. He was a member of the firm of J. Jackson & Sons, he being one of the sons, and B. Rush Jackson the other. Josiah Jackson, the father died, and James Thomson was his executor. James Thomson and Rush Jackson claimed that Geo. D. Jackson held this land in trust, one third for himself, one third for Josiah Jackson's estate, and one third for Rush Jackson. A bill in equity was filed in 1881 to compel the executors of Geo. D. Jackson to convey the two thirds as above stated. This was contested, and it was not determined until 1887 that Geo. D. Jackson was only a trustee, and the Supreme Court compelled his excutors to make the deeds as prayed for. In September 1880, before this bill was filed, Rush Jackson and wife sold his third interest in the land to Mrs. Emily L. Patrick, a sister of Rush Jackson. About that time the firm of Jackson Bros., consisting of Geo. D. and Rush, became involved, and in November 1881, Mrs. Bernice W. Jackson, widow of Geo. D, caused the third interest of Rush, which he had sold to his sister a year before, to be levied on and sold by the sheriff of Sullivan county, she buying it in for $50. The executors of Geo. D. Jackson leased their third interest, to M. C. Mercur one eighteenth, and to the State Line & Sullivan R. R. Co. five eighteenths, the consideration to be ten cents on every ton of clean coal mined. But as there were several other co tenants who would not agree to sell the coal at so low a price, the railroad Company desired to get the price fixed by the court before they began operations, and so in December 1881, the bill in equity was filed which started the litigation of which we now write. The company mined a few tons, and then by this bill asked the court to fix the price of royalty on the coal. Judge Ingham, after hearing affidavits ranging from ten to fifty cents a ton, fixed the price at ten cents, and the company began to take out the coal in large quantities. In 1886 a motion was made before Judge Sittser, who had succeeded Ingham, to rescind the order fixing the price at ten cents, and this was done, whereupon the company ceased mining, tore up the rails in the mine, and abandoned the workings. From that time to this, nine years, the Jackson portion of the Bernice mines have been idle, awaiting the result of this law-suit. Over 160,000 tons of coal had been mined, and the money paid into the hands of James Macfarlane, receiver appointed by the court, amounting to over $10.000, the railroad company retaining their five eighteenth of the royalty. Mr. Mac farlane died, and N. N. Betts of Towanda was appointed his successor, and the fund grew to over $14.000. From 1886 to 1889 no steps were taken to distribute this fund. It was locked up in the receiver's hands, and some of the attorneys concerned in the case wanted it to remain there for various reasons, while others did not seem to know what legal steps to take in order to solve the problem. In April 1889 the papers were submitted to Judge Elwell, and after a careful examination, he outlined the course to be pursued by his son Geo. E. Elwell, and this was followed, resulting in a complete victory for his side. Answers were filed to the bill, a master and examiner appointed, and after numerous rules and motions the taking of testimony was commenced before H. N. Williams Esq., of Towanda, master. Before the conclusion of the case, he died, and C. O. Dersheimer Esq., of Tunk hannock was appointed in his place. The taking of testimony extended through three years. The chief question was to ascertain to whom the money in the receiver's hands belonged, and this involved the question of title to one third between Emily L. Patrick who bought the third interest of Rush Jackson in 1880, and Bernice W. Jackson who bought the same interest at sheriff's sale a year later.

Mrs. Patrick and Mr. Thomson contended that the court had no power to fix the price of coal at the outset, and claimed that the company should pay more for it. A large number of experts were examined on both sides, as to value.

The master in a voluminous report found that the disputed third interest in the land belonged to W. L. Woodruff, assignee of Mrs. Patrick; that the coal was worth 12 cents a ton in place, thus increasing the sum in controversy to nearly $18,000. Judge Sittser affirmed this finding, and the State Line & Sullivan Railroad Company and Bernice W. Jackson each appealed to the Supreme Court, when the cases were argued last March by R. A. Mercur and Col. E. Overton Esq. of Towanda for the appellants; Geo. E. Elwell, and D. C. DeWitt Esqs., the latter of Towanda, for Mrs. Patrick, and Rush J. Thomson Esq. of Dushore, for Josiah Jackson's estate. The court held the cases until October 5th last, and then dismissed the appeals and affirmed the court below in every particular.

Judge Sittser had been succeeded by Judge Dunham on the bench, and the latter was applied to for a final order, but he having been consulted at some stage of the matter, certified it to Judge Peck of Bradford county who on October 26th made a final order directing the receiver to pay out the money in his hands in accordance with the decree of the Court, and that has been done. And so ends a long, tedious and expensive law suit.

The principal legal questions determined by this case are, first, in equity proceedings the title to land arising as a collateral matter, may be determined without submission to a jury; and, second, that where several parties are the owners of mineral lands, and one of them takes out the mineral, the court cannot fix the price of the royalty at the commencement of operations. The value of the mineral so taken must be determined after it has been mined, where the parties cannot agree on a price.

DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

The danger of emptying ashes in barrels was fully demonstrated last week, when had it not been for the presence of mind of some of the neighbors, instead of recording a small fire, in all probability we would have been obliged to give an account of a large conflagration. The barrels in which the ashes which come from the stoves of J. L. Moyer are thrown, stand against the side of the storage building of J. Saltzer. Hot ashes having been thrown into the said barrels, it was not long ere flames were noticed shooting above the building. The alarm was given, and with the aid of the bucket brigade the fire was soon subdued. It happened in the morning, and hence was noticed at once. The barrels were entirely consumed, and the siding burned from the building. Let this be a warning to our people.

PASTORS UNION.

The Pastor's Union met Monday after an interim of several weeks. Pastors Patterson, Brandt, Heilman, Conner and Weeks were present. The following resolutions were adopted:

That the time for Sunday evening services be changed to 7 o'clock after this date; that the pastors will co-operate with the National Reform Association in holding union services in this town Nov. 25th, 26th and 27th; that Rev. B. C. Conner be appointed to preach the Thanksgiving sermon in the Methodist church; that the Pastors Union extends cordial greeting to the Young Woman's Christian Association in its coming meeting here, that we will co operate so far as is practicable, and that Rev. P. A. Heilman be appointed to give the address of welcome on behalf of the churches; that we extend an invitation to Mr. James McConkey to teach the International S. S. Lessons in Bloomsburg on alternate Monday afternoons; that we heartily commend the action of the town authorities in endeavoring to clear the streets on Sunday evenings of persons acting or talking improperly, that we hope the endeavor will be vigorously pushed, and that we as pastors will assist in any way possible. It was a busy morning for the five pastors.

SHOCKED BY A WIRE.

Electric Current Proves an Unseen Menace to Chicago Pedestrians.

The elusive banana peel has lost its usefulness as a means for lowering the pride of man, and will now be relegated to the shades of oblivion, electricity having taken its place.

The other afternoon the cabmen stationed along South Canal street near the Union depot at Chicago, were furnished any amount of amusement at the expense of innocent pedestrians who were made the victims of electrical pranks. During the day at least a half dozen men who were hurrying to the station were sent sprawling on the sidewalk in front of 131 South Canal street.

As a belated passenger would hurry along the old wooden sidewalk, valise in hand, he would suddenly utter a cry of pain, perform a series of contortion acts and then land full length on the wet and muddy boards. Then he would slowly pick himself up, carefully examine the walk, shake his head and jog along in a state of curiosity and ignorance.

Among the interested spectators of these peculiar actions was Officer Derrig, of the central detail, who is stationed at the Union depot. After witnessing the downfall of five or six men, the officer's curiosity led him to make an investigation.

The officer slowly walked over to the spot with the air of a man who was about to unravel a deep mystery. He began to pace back and forth on the old wooden sidewalk, and after having made the trip in safety several times he began to look at the "cabbies" with a wink and twirl his rosewood club with all the confidence of one of the finest.

Finally he strode down the middle of the walk on the way back to his post, confident that the men who had fallen must have mixed their drinks. Suddenly one of his brogans descended on the head of a big, iron spike which protruded a half inch above the plank. A look of pain overspread his features, a cry of surprise burst from his lips, and then there was a whirling mass of blue cloth, brass buttons, tin star and rosewood club.

Derrig finally landed on his back, as had many before him. Struggling to his feet, he gave a hasty glance at the sky and then at the sidewalk. For a moment he was dumb, and then turning to the roaring cabmen he exclaimed:

"Be gorrah! I wus sthruck be lightnin'!"

Securing an ax, Derrig tore up a half dozen planks and then discovered the cause of all the trouble. Directly underneath the middle row of spikes an electric light wire had been strung. The ends of the nails had worn away the insulation from the wire and the weight of a person above pressed them against the uncovered wire, forming a perfect connection. The wet walk only served to increase the power of the current, giving the passing pedestrian a sufficient shock to throw him sprawling on the sidewalk.

THEY SELL BANANAS.

How Two Young Chicago Girls Support Themselves Nicely.

Teresa and Bibi Puccetti, two Italian girls with pleasant brown faces and black eyes, are fast establishing a paying banana route on the west side at Chicago. About a year ago the girls arrived from Italy with their father. The father was once a sculptor of some repute in Genoa, but he lost the use of his hands in a theater fire. He was educated, and after his arrival until his death, three months ago, he served as interpreter in west side courts. Left almost destitute at his death, the girls set to work to make a living.

Grasshoppers Saved His Life.

James Clone, a farmer of Stonyford, N. Y., believes grasshoppers saved him from death by an enraged bull. Mr. Clone was crossing a large, open field when the bull pursued him. The farmer ran as fast as possible, but the bull steadily gained on him, and when nearly exhausted a small clump of bushes was passed, from which arose a large cloud of grasshoppers. The insects struck the infuriated animal in the face and it turned aside. Mr. Clone escaped from the field unharmed.

The Kansas Idea.

With much regret we note that a Wichita (Kan.) man has got into trouble about a kiss. It is never pleasant to hear of a misunderstanding about a kiss. A kiss is such a harmless, necessary thing—the bestowing of it such a simple, innocent, and pleasant form of recreation—that to have any sort of trouble follow it is discouraging, to say the least. But in the Kansas case under consideration the sorrow that such things should be is rather swallowed up in wonder at certain details of development. The thing has, of course, got into the courts, or nothing would be known about it. Mrs Wertz, who was kissed, is suing Mr. Pulliam, who did the kissing, for damages. Realizing, apparently, the utter absurdity of such a thing as damages having any possible connection with so benign a thing as a kiss, the lady's lawyer has fallen back on his legal base of supplies and put forward the astonishing plea that the defendant kissed the plaintiff in a "loud, boisterous, felonious, malicious, and unseemly manner, against the peace and dignity of the state of Kansas." Now isn't it hard luck enough to be hauled up for so small an act as kissing, without having a heartless lawyer unload such a lot of misfit adjectives upon a person? Surely the law could impose no greater penalty than to permit a bookish barrister to get his fell work in in such a manner.

Hens in Bloomers.

A cure for the bloomer craze has been found at last. It is the invention of a shrewd Vermonter, and in the several instances in which it has been tried it has worked almost as magically as magic. The inventor had a wife who rode a bicycle and who insisted on wearing bloomers every time she went out for a spin. Neither protests nor appeals nor threats could induce her to wear another costume. So one day the husband, with a patience that would have caused Job to open his eyes, sat down and made a pair of bloomers for every hen in the poultry yard, and drawing them on the hens called his wife to look at them. They looked just like she did, he said, when she was on the wheel in costume. A little more graceful, perhaps, but not a bad reproduction. There were some sharp words for a moment, but the woman hasn't worn bloomers since.

THE joys of married life are differently estimated by different people, and it has been alleged that some of the sweetest pleasures come in the "making up" after family jars. On this ground, opines the New York Sun, Mrs. Isaac Brewster, of Monroe county, Pa., has been getting a full measure of satisfaction out of her twenty-two years of wedded life. In that time she has deserted her husband just forty-two times. She and Isaac would disagree about something, and she would promptly go away, first to her parents and latterly to her married children. Forty-two times she was coaxed back by her disconsolate husband, and everything was lovely for a few months each time, until the next outbreak. One time, when they parted over a custard pie, it cost Isaac two hundred dollars and the deed to a house to get his erratic spouse back. But now she refuses to go back again, and the courts have been asked to appoint a guardian for the estate.

IT is difficult to understand wherein science is to any appreciable extent benefited by the cruel practices of some experimenters in its interests. Take, for instance, a case reported in the Journal of Zoophily, which says that in Philadelphia there is a doctor who experimented upon one hundred and forty-one dogs by raising them to a height and dropping them upon ridges and bars of iron in order to test the effect of the painful bruises and the breaking of the backs which were the result. There is also a doctor who selected a number of dogs and after twisting their legs over their backs, thus placing them in an excessively cramped and unnatural position, sealed them up in plaster of paris, which prevented their obtaining any relief. Inhuman cruelty and nothing short of it.

IT is claimed that fully twenty million acres of American land are owned by great land-owners in England and Scotland. This does not include the Holland syndicate, which owns five million acres of grazing land in western states, nor the German syndicate owning two million acres in various states. This leads us to ask: Do Americans own America?

SINCE the United States government was organized less than nine hundred people have served as United States senators, while of these more than two hundred had previously been members of the house of representatives.

A ROCKLAND (Me.) newspaper announces that "scarlet fever of a benevolent type" is prevalent in that city. This is a type that will hardly become epidemic.

A PITTSBURGH girl of sixteen killed herself a few days ago by eating paris green because her mother had given birth to a baby girl and she wanted a brother.

A WEST VIRGINIA man is so peculiarly affected by riding on a train that he has to chain himself to a seat to prevent his jumping out of the car window.

THE RETIRED BURGLAR.

Work Easily Prosecuted in the Tumult of a Thunderstorm.

"Speaking of cinches," said the retired burglar to a New York Sun reporter, "the easiest, softest, smoothest snap I ever struck was in a house in a small town in Rhode Island. There was a thunderstorm coming up as I went along toward this house, and just as I got there it began to sprinkle. By the time I'd got inside it was coming down pretty hard, and I was glad to be under shelter, for I hadn't brought any umbrella with me. I hadn't had any supper either, and when I got into the dining room I thought I'd get something to eat. The sideboard was locked and the key carried upstairs, but a little jimmy opened the door as easy as a knife would open a pie. I set out a little snack on the table and sat down and ate it comfortably, with the rain pouring down outside. If there's anything I like it's to hear a storm a ragin' outside when you're settled down all snug and comfortable within.

"But here was something I hadn't counted. The thunder was roaring and plunging like a dozen earthquakes bustin' down through the sky, and it kept the house in a tremble all the time. I knew nobody could sleep in that thunder. They'd be sure to be all awake; but here I was, and I hated to lose a night, and after I'd waited a little and the storm didn't show any signs of lettin' up, I thought I'd go ahead and see, anyhow. The very first room I looked into upstairs settled the whole business.

"Over in one corner of this room, beyond a bed, I saw a women standing in front of an open closet door. Two children hopped out of the bed, and the mother pushed them into the closet and then crowded in herself and pulled the door shut tight. It was all very simple; husband away, no help; two children sleeping in another room, woke up by thunder, come into their mother's room, all scared; mother puts children in closet and gets in herself, as lots of folks do in thunderstorms. And then I walk over and turn the key in the lock and there you are; no danger of their coming out till the storm is over, anyway, but just as well to be sure about it, and then I just quietly go through the house. It isn't big and it doesn't take long, and I come back before the storm is over and unlock the closet door again and skip; and that's all there is to it.

BURIED WITH HONORS.

Description of an Imposing Canine Funeral Held at London.

This is how Mr. Sims, in the Referee, christens the true story of an event which has taken place in London. Mr. H. J. R. Pope, M. R. C. V. S., of No. 43 Addison road, had had for some time past at his infirmary an aged retriever dog, sent there to end his days in peace.

Last week the dog was taken for death, and his mistress was advised by telegram of the fact. She came at once, and held the dying dog's paw until all was finished, and then, the first outburst of natural grief over, the sorrowing mistress immediately sent for a fashionable West End undertaker to measure the dead pet for a coffin.

A grave next to the Duke of Cambridge's canine family vault in Hyde Park cemetery was then secured, and the cemetery authorities were notified that the interment would take place in two days.

On the following day the undertaker's van arrived at the Maison Mortuaire, and the coachman and two bearers came in and brought the coffin, which was a very handsome one of solid oak, with brass mountings, and a silver plate on the lid, setting forth the name of the dog, the date of his birth and death, etc.

The coffin was lined with white satin; the body reverently covered with a white cloth, and the deceased dog lay in state during the rest of the day. The next morning a hearse drawn by two horses arrived, and the dog was conveyed to the cemetery, followed by a mourning coach and his mistress' brougham with the blinds drawn down, and the ceremony at the grave was a most affecting one, many of the faithful animal's two-legged friends assembling to join in this last earthly tribute to his memory.

An Important Office.

To properly fill its office and functions, it is important that the blood be pure. When it is in such a condition, the body is almost certain to be healthy. A complaint at this time is catarrh in some of its various forms. A slight cold develops the disease in the head. Droppings of corruption passing into the lungs bring on consumption. The only way to cure this disease is to purify the blood. The most obstinate cases of catarrh yield to the medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla as if by magic, simply because it reaches the seat of the disease, and by purifying and vitalizing the blood, removes the cause. Not only does Hood's Sarsaparilla do this but it gives renewed vigor to the whole system, making it possible for good health to reign supreme.

Put in Blast After Five Years' Idleness.

RHEUMATIC PAINS.

Dr. David Kennedy's statement that the real cause of Rheumatism was the imperfect action of the kidneys, and that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy opened the clogged ducts, permitted the secretions to pass off, relief and comfort following as a natural result was so reasonable that sufferers seized at it with avidity and many a victim of Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago has been cured by its use. 2t.

Hints For Hunters.

The rabbit season opened Nov. 1st, and it will not hurt the most careful gunner to read the following cautions, and it may save the life of an experienced hunter:

Never load a muzzle loading gun with the stock resting on any object. It is liable to slip off and cause you the loss of a hand or your life.

Always see that the barrel is firmly attached to the stock. Otherwise it might fall off on striking a stone, with serious results to the owner.

If the cap goes off, but the gun does not, do not remove the weapon from the shoulder for a few seconds. You may endanger the lives of your friends if you disregard this. A spark is liable to remain in the tube.

If you kill game lower the hammer of your gun before picking it up. In the excitement of the moment a serious accident might occur.

Lower the hammers when in the act of climbing a fence.

Never carry a gun with your finger on the trigger. Rest the finger on the trigger guard.

Do not shoot at a rabbit among corn shucks until you are sure of the position of your companion.

None but amateurs will drag a gun under a fence by the barrel. Many of those who do so die young.

Never point your gun at any person under any circumstances. It is the "didn't know it was loaded" gun which kills.

The man who frightens up a rabbit is entitled to the first two shots at the game. You may loose a good friend by disregarding this rule.

A true sportsman never kills a rabbit in its "squat" in a field where there is open ground, but gives it a chance for its life. Market hunters only murder their game.

Pay attention to the above and you may save your own life as well as those of others.

We would like to look into the pleasant face of some one who has never had any derangement of the digestive organs. We see the drawn and unhappy faces of dyspeptics in every walk of life. It is our national disease, and nearly all complaints spring from this source. Remove the stomach difficulty and the work is done.

Dyspeptics and pale thin people are literally starving, because they don't digest their food. Consumption never develops in people of robust and normal digestion. Correct the wasting and loss of flesh and we cure the disease. Do this with food.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial contains already digested food and is a digester of food at the same time. Its effects are felt at once. Get a pamphlet of your druggist and learn about it.

Guns Made into Church Bells.

The German emperor has donated nine guns, taken in 1870 from the French, for the church bells for the new military church at Hanover. The new set of chimes is tuned B flat, D. F and C. The lettering on each of the bells reads: "I am cast from French guns taken in 1870; donated by Emperor William II, at Berlin, 1895." All of the bells have further inscriptions and names. The B flat bell is called the "Emperor's Bell," and it says on it: "With God, for King and Fatherland." The D bell is named, "Bell of Peace," the motto being, "Peace in the heart; peace in the land; may be the gift from the Lord's hand." The F bell is named the "Bell of War," with the inscription, "I am chosen to call to the battle," and, finally, on the C bell, which is called, "Bell of Death," it says, "The time goes by, the time goes by, man be ready for eternity!" The set of four bells weigh 55,000 pounds.

The franchise of the Scranton Baseball association was sold by the sheriff last Saturday to satisfy judgments of seven of the directors amounting to $3,000. The rumor that if Scranton goes out of the Eastern league that Wilkesbarre will be asked to follow, is unfounded. The latter club is in good financial condition and will remain where it is in the Eastern league.

A spark from a passing locomotive caused a costly fire at Dauphin in Dauphin County last Friday, 4,000,000 feet of lumber was burned. The lumber had been cut from the logs which went adrift from Williamsport during the flood of 1894.

A few days use of Pineola Balsam and the danger is past. It is the right thing for coughs. Better than any home mixtures. Better than any other medicine whatever for that cough—that tearing, sleep killing, anxiety-breeding, dangerous cough Ely's Pineola Balsam cures sore throat and is quick and sure in all bronchial affections. It will relieve the cough at once. It makes breathing much easier and the spasms less severe in cases of asthma. Price 25 cents.

NO SECRET

IN THIS WOMAN'S CASE.

Mrs. Campbell Wishes Her Letter Published so that the Truth May Be Known.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Of the thousands of letters received from women all over the world by Mrs. Pinkham, not one is given to the public unless by the wish of the writer. Thus absolute confidence is established between Mrs. Pinkham and her army of patients; and she freely solicits a letter from any woman, rich or poor, who is in ill health or ailing.

In the case of Mary E. Campbell, of Albion, Noble Co., Ind., her suffering was so severe, her relief so suddenly realized, and her gratitude so great, that she wishes the circumstances published, in the hope that others may be benefited thereby. She says:—

"My physician told me I had dropsy and falling of the womb. My stomach and bowels were so bloated I could not get a full breath. My face and hands were bloated badly. I had that dreadful bearing-down pain, backache, palpitation of the heart, and nervousness.

"One of my physicians told me I had something growing in my stomach; and the medicine that I took gave me relief only for a short time. I thought I must die. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it worked like a charm. After taking the first bottle I could walk across the street, now I am well. I advise all my friends to take it."
—MARY E. CAMPBELL, Albion, Noble Co.

While constable James McFeely and James Miller, of Altoona, were hunting wild turkeys on the mountains, in Huntingdon county, the former was riddled with fine shot by G. W. Prather, a Pittsburg gunner, who mistook the Altoona man for a nice big gobbler. The accident happened in this way: It had grown dusk on the mountains when McFeely sat down on a log and took out his turkey bone with which he began, to call. It was not long until an answering: gobble, gobble, gobble, came from a knoll not far off. Thus encouraged he kept very still and tried to entice the other turkey up to him, but when he had accomplished his end a flash and a sharp report told the story of his mistake. The other turkey had been Prather and as he saw McFeeley's hat in the twilight he let go with the result already mentioned.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1895.

Oh yes, speaking about the election last Tuesday. Well, we haven't got much to say.

The election last Tuesday was almost an entire sweep for the Republicans. It was due in a great measure to the fact that the Democracy paid but little attention to the matter, whilst the Republicans polled about their full vote. Pennsylvania went Republican by about 160,000 Kentucky, Ohio, Iowa, Massachusetts and New York gave Republican pluralities. The Democratic ticket won in the City of New York and the County of Lycoming has again fallen into the Democratic column. Smith is probably elected as the Democratic Judge of the Superior Court.

OFFICIAL RETURNS.

The following is the vote cast in Columbia County, Tuesday November 5th 1895. The figures below are from the official count, and gives the actual vote cast, excepting that in the office of Judges of the Superior Court, the vote is given for the first named on the different tickets only.

To the Bloomsburg Public in General.

We the undersigned for the Bloomsburg Cornet Band beg a few words with the amusement loving public The organization being deeply in debt and instead of appealing to the people for help, wish to state that they have arranged for the production of "A Millionaire Tramp" under the direction of a clever young actor of fine reputation supported by his wife a very clever young actress and a picked company of home talent in the Opera House, Saturday, November 9th.

If the public enjoyed the free summer concerts given by the band we trust they will show their appreciation by giving them their kind support. We have watched rehearsals of the play and can safely recommend it to all, both our lady and gentlemen friends. It is a play abounding with comedy, without impropriety. The band will play selections between acts, concert outside of the hall on Saturday evening. This being the only means of the band's support, we trust our friends will respond and give us a full house. For the band.

The story is founded on weather-beaten lines, but serves to keep the interest keyed up to a high pitch. The situations are strong in several instances. The scenery is good and the company above the average.—The Chicago Evening News, May 20.

SIMON LONG'S SONS,

10 AND 12 SOUTH MAIN ST., WILKES-BARRE

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4th, 1895.

President Cleveland has, in accordance with his usual custom, moved from the White House out to his suburban residence, in order to be able to put in more time upon his message to Congress than he could possibly do when liable to almost constant interruptions from callers whom he would not care to decline seeing. These he is entirely free from at his suburban residence, as no one goes there to call upon him, unless specially invited. While not stated as a certainty, there are good reasons for the belief that his annual message to Congress will not deal with the diplomatic controversy with England over the application of the Monroe Doctrine in Venezuela, further that to say that the whole subject will be fully treated in a special message which will follow the annual message and be accompanied by the diplomatic correspondence. The President and every member of his cabinet are well pleased with the present status of this Venezuela matter, and very confident that they will be still better pleased a little later. A diplomatic victory is preferable to one achieved by the use of powder and ball, in some cases. And this is one of the cases.

If proof was needed that the real purpose of the public meeting held Oct. 31st. for the avowed purpose of expressing the sympathy of the citizens of Washington for the Cuban revolutionists, was to embarrass the administration and make republican partisan capital, it was furnished in great big chunks by the names of those who controlled the meeting, made the speeches and wrote the resolutions adopted. Every man of them was a republican. The presiding officer was the notorious "coporal" Tanner; the writer of the resolutions was Dr. Rankin, president of the Howard University, the negro college, which is partly maintained at public expense, and the only woman speaker was Mrs, John A. Logan.

Judge Lochren, Commissioner of Pensions, has a paragraph in his annual report headed "Patriotism and Pensions", in which he says: "Those men who enlisted early and fought the battles of the war, were not moved by mercenary considerations, and unless actually disabled did not show the haste in applying for pensions manifested by those who enlisted near the close of the war for large bounties, and did little actual service, and who are now the noisiest in clamoring for more pensions' As compared with this latter class the real soldiers of the war have been modest in preferring claims for pensions." The figures in the report are intersting. June 30, 1894, there were on the rolls 969,544 pensioners; during the year following 39,185 new names were added and 4,205 names which had been dropped were restored. There were 27,816 deaths, and 14,575 names were dropped for other causes, making the net increase of the total number of pensioners for the fiscal year ending June 30 last, 860. The appropriation for the year covered by the report was $150,000,000, and Judge Lochren's estimate for the next fiscal year is $140,000'000.

Ex- Congressman Bynum, of Ind., is one of the few men who regards Mr. Harrison's chances for the republican nomination as being ahead of either those of Reed, McKinley or Allison. He says Mr. Harrison is stronger with his party in Indiana than ever before and that the Indiana republicans are going to get him nominated, if such a thing is possible. Speaking of the democratic nomination, Mr. Bynum said: "On the democratic side there is much talk in favor of Col. Morrison, and he has many friends in all parts of the country. My opinion is that eventually democratic sentiment will center on Secretary Carlisle. He is well liked in the North and East, and in the South his nomination would create tremendous enthusiasm."

Representative Forman of Ill., who has been on the stump in Kentucky, Maryland and New Jersey, arrived in Washington this week. He says he hasn't the slightest doubt that all three states will go democratic.

Secretary Olney has received a copy of the proceedings of the French court martial which sentenced the negro Waller, who is a Ex-U. S. Consul, to twenty years imprisonment under the charge of having betrayed French military movements in Madagascar, and the wife of the imprisoned man has given the Secretary all the information in her possession, documentary and otherwise. It cannot be stated what Mr. Olney thinks of the case, but others who have had access to the information regard the outlook for Waller as a bad one, and say that the case has been misrepresented for poltical effect by certain republican newspapers.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, and Secretary Olney are engaged in negotiating a convention to determine the amount of damages sustained by the owners of Canadian sealing vessels which were seized in Bering Sea by this government before the arbitration of the claims of the two countries. It is expected that it will be completed before Congress meets.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE FOR NOVEMBEE 1895.

The complete novel in the November issue of Lippincott's, "In Sight of the Goddess," by Harriet Riddle Davis, deals with life at the Capital. The principal characters are a member of the cabinet, his daughter, and his private secretary, who might also be called society manager for the family: the action is chiefly the two last. The tale is written with abundant local knowledge and striking ability.

Marjorie Richardson's "A Romance in Late Fall" is that of an elderly spinster, whose belated affections were amusingly yet pathetically misplaced. "The Strike at Colchester," by T. B. Exeter, was a strike of women against domestic duties, and speedily came to grief. Geraldine Meyrick sets forth the lofty loneliness of the vocation of "A Post."

"A Brush with Kiowas" describes one of William Thomson's western adventures, which occurred on the Arkansas River in 1856. David Bruce Fitzgerald gives his experience "With the Oyster Police" on the Chesapeake. Owen Hall describes a "A Dead City of Ceylon."

Dr. A. L. Benedict writes lucidly and most sensibly on "Medical Education and the Education of Medical Men." Charles H. Cochrane, author of "The Wonders of Modern Mechanism," shows how "A Hundred and Twenty Miles an Hour" may be covered by electricity.

NO PEDDLING WITHOUT LICENSE.

A Judge's Decision That Is Important To The Entire State.

Judge Metzger November 1st, handed down an opinion that is of interest to the whole State. Some time ago James Dunham, a clothes wringer agent, was convicted of peddling in Lycoming county. It was claimed for the defendant that the goods sold by Dunham had been shipped from another State, and were therefore protected by the interstate Commerce law, Judge Metzger decided that they were not so protected, and ordered Dunham to appear for sentence.

A SACRIFICE FOR MISSIONS.

Remarkable Scene in the State Brethren Convention at Johnstown

WATCHES AND OTHER VALUABLES.

THROWN INTO THE COLLECTION BASKET AS A RESULT OF THE ELOQUENCE OF THE REV. E. E HASKINS.

At the state brethren convention held at Johnstown, some time since a remarkable scene was witnessed. It was during the discussion of the mission work. In the addresses it was shown that mission work in this state had been sadly neglected and that many brethren in the state had no place of worship, owing to the manner in which the churches are distributed throughout the state. Various remedies were suggested, the general feeling being that cash was needed.

The Rev. E. E Haskins, of that city, was the first to discuss the matter and he forced a self denial by offering as his donation his gold watch which had been given to him when he was eleven years old. In a moment the convention was aroused. Watches and all sorts of valuables were thrown into the contribution basket with the money, and the scene was so affecting that hundreds shed tears.

During the noon hour the ladies held a meeting and decided to form a Sunday school union and to ask the convention for its sanction in their work, which will be principally intended to aid the church in its efforts to establish mission stations all over the state. The convention heartily endorsed the action of the ladies and a request was made that all the societies of such a nature merge into a state union for their own good.

The matter of the selection of a place for the next convention was given to the executive committee with power to act. The convention then adjourned.—Harrisburg Patriot

The Common People."

As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about their ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement. "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, cure headache. 75c.

"She Do Not Even Hesitate."

"The negro of this region can often throw in a word to describe a situation when a scholar who is conversant with many languages would fail. The other day at a station on the Seaboard Air Line, this side of Hamlet, a lady approached, and, being a stranger and seeing an old negro man, asked 'Uncle does the vestibule train stop here?' 'No, marm' answered the old coon, 'she do not even hestate.'"

The old darkey's reply will be better appreciated when it is remembered that the Seaboard Air Line Vestibuled Train is the fastest train in the South—leaving Washington, as it does, at 8:40 P. M. and reaching Atlanta at 4:09 P. M. the next day. —Raleigh Press-Visitor.

Bike Factory Bought for a Song.

A few weeks ago Attorney Phillip V. Weaver, of Hazlaton, bought the Weatherly Bicycle Works at Sheriff sale for $100, subject to a mortgage of $11,000 in favor of the trustees. Since then it has been discovered that the mortgage against the concern was diverted by a mechanics' lien, and after Mr. Weaver has paid the $100 and the lien, the property will be his. The receivers now ask the Court to have the sale set aside.—Phila. Record.

Mr. Weaver is well known in this Town, and has many friends here, who hope that his expectations may be realized.

The great increase in the number of bicycles carried by passengers on the Pennsylvania railroad has led to the issuance of an order that after Nov. 1st the railroad will no longer carry bicycles free as passengers' baggage. They will be rated the same as excess baggage, except that the minimum charge will be but fifteen cents. The baggage men say that of late eight or nine bicycles is nothing unusual on one trip, and that goes to show the increase in baggage heretofore seldom carried.

A suit was brought Nov. 1st by Judge Rice against the Clear Spring Coal Company for $95,000 damages. The defendants are charged with mining coal from the lands owned by the Judge.

A Minister's Experience With Heart Disease.

Rev. L. W. Showers, Elderton, Pa.: "For many years my greatest enemy has been organic heart disease. From uneasiness about the heart, with palpitation, it had developed into thumping, fluttering, and choking sensations. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gave instant relief. A few bottles have rid me of almost every symptom of heart disease. It is a wonder worker." Sold by Wm. S. Rishton. 6 15-1y.

A Broad Minded Divine.

EVERYONE IN SYRACUSE KNOWS REV. S. R. CALTHROP.

A Scholarly, Christian Man and a Beloved Pastor, Who Believes in Training the Body as Well as the Mind.

REV. DR. CALTHROP, SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The twenty-ninth day of April is a notable day in the history of the May Memorial Church in Syracuse, as it is the anniversary of the installation of the Rev. Samuel R. Calthrop, D. D., the eminent divine who so long has ministered to them spiritually as pastor of the Church.

Dr. Calthrop was born in England and received his preparatory scholastic training at St. Paul's School, London. Entering Trinity College, Cambridge, he soon became a bright figure in that brilliant coterie of scholars, literary men and wits that followed in the traditions of Macaulay and his associates at the university. In the middle of the century he visited Syracuse and received his first impressions of the young city that nearly a score of years later he was to choose as his home and in which his labors have been so long and effective. The masterly pulpit addresses of Dr. Calthrop have had their fundamentals drawn from the deepest research. His people have been instructed by him, not only in things spiritual, but in the elements of the broadest culture, in literature in art and in science. His young men have been taught a muscular system of morality. In these and in many other ways has he endeared himself to his congregation, which is one of the most highly cultured and wealthy in the city.

Dr. Calthrop has a striking personality. To the eye he is a most picturesque figure. His head and face, framed in luxuriant masses of silky, snow white hair and beard, are of the type of Bryant and Longfellow. Although over seventy years old, his rather spare figure is firm and erect, and every movement is active and graceful. His whole life long he has been an ardent admirer and promoter of athletic sports, and even at his advanced age, plays tennis with all the vigor and skill of a young man. To Syracusans, perhaps, this remarkably versatile man is most widely known, apart from his profession, as a scientist.

On a bright April morning a reporter followed the winding driveway that curving around the hill leads to Calthrop Lodge, an old-fashioned, red brick mansion, surrounded by a grove of oaks and chestnuts. Wearing a black skull cap and a black coat of semi-clerical cut, the master of Calthrop Lodge graciously received the reporter who called to inquire about his health, for, though manfully repressing all possible evidences of his suffering, Dr. Calthrop for many years has been the victim of a distressing affliction, until by fortunate chance he was led to take the remedy which has effectually cured him.

During more than half of his pastorate in Syracuse, Dr. Calthrop has been troubled with rheumatism, and at intervals he suffered excruciating agony from it. At times the pain was so great as to prevent him from walking. Many remedies were tried without success, and he and his friends had given up hope of a permanent cure or of more than temporary relief when he took the preparation that drove the disease completely from his system.

In a letter written to the editor of The Evening News, of Syracuse, last year, Dr. Calthrop told of his affliction and its cure. This is Dr. Calthrop's letter:

To the Editor of The Evening News—Dear Sir: More than thirty-five years ago I wrenched my left knee, throwing it almost from its socket. Great swelling followed, and the synovial juice kept leaking from the joint.

This made me lame for years, and from time to time the weak knee would give out entirely, and the swelling would commence. This was always occasioned by some strain like a sudden stop. The knee gradually recovered, but always was weaker than the other.

About fifteen years ago the swelling recommenced, this time without any wrench at all, and before long I realized that this was rheumatism settling in the weakest part of the body. The trouble came so often that I was obliged to carry an opiate in my pocket everywhere I went. I had generally a packet in my waiscoat pocket, but in going to a conference at Buffalo I forgot it, and as the car was damp and cold, before I got to Buffalo my knee was swollen to twice its natural size.

I had seen the good effects that Pink Pills were having in such cases and I tried them myself with the result that I have never had a twinge or a swelling since. This was effected by taking seven or eight boxes.

I need not say that I am thankful for my recovered independence, but I will add that my knee is far stronger than it has been for thirty-five years.

I took one pill at my meals three times a day.

I gladly give you this statement.

Yours, S. R. CALTHROP.

Since writing this letter Dr. Calthrop has not had any visits from his old enemy and is even more cordial now in his recommendation of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than he was then. To the reporter he said:

"I am continually recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to acquaintances and those I chance to meet who are troubled with rheumatism or locomotor ataxia.

"Pink Pills," continued Dr. Calthrop, "are the best thing of the kind I know of. They are infinitely superior to most medicines that are put up for sale. I know pretty well what the pills contain, and I consider it an excellent prescription. It is such a one as I might get from my doctor, but he would not give it in such a compact form and so convenient to take.

"I recommend the pills highly to all who are troubled with rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, or any impoverishment of the blood."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have an enormous sale. An analysis of their properties shows that they contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases resulting from vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. There are no ill effects following the use of this wonderful medicine, and it can be given to children with perfect safety.

MAY MEMORIAL CHURCH, SYRACUSE, N. Y.

These pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and are never sold in bulk. They may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company. The price at which these Pills are sold makes a course of treatment inexpensive as compared with other remedies.—From the Evening News, Syracuse, N. Y.

The Southern Negro.

In the language of a southern writer the generation of negroes born since the war are just beginning to "feel their oats." A vast army of them in the south are without the habits of sustained industry and of self-restraint possessed by their fathers, educated in the school of slavery. They care nothing for the law and the officers of the law. They are constantly in conflict with these and with the exasperated public opinion of their vicinage. They are enemies of society, and in the interests of society should be placed where they can do the least harm. An orderly administration of the laws everywhere is the best safeguard that society can have, but our Afro-American fellow-citizens damage their cause when they persistently place themselves on the side of the criminal element of their race, in defiance of law and public opinion. To recognize the existence of this criminal element and "labor to lift them up morally and intellectually," as Mr. Scott suggests, would be a far more wise and judicious course to pursue. It is never safe to justify the existense of abuses of whatever sort; a manly recognition of them and an honest effort to correct them will always command respect of those whose respect is worth having. "The common negro" is a natural product of slavery and the reaction from slavery. He is in evidence in every southern community and in a few of the northern and western ones. He complicates the race problem. He makes difficult the pathway of the honest, respectable and ambitious members of his race. He is too often, it is true, made the standard by which his whole race is judged, but under the circumstances this is unavoidable. An honest admission that he exists and that he is to be dealt with just as the criminal members of other races of the population are will be of incalculable advantage to Afro-Americans and to society generally.

A SEVENTY-SEVEN-YEAR-OLD citizen of Great Falls, Wash., is undergoing a peculiar process of physical regeneration. About a year ago he contracted pneumonia, and his life was for some time despaired of, the doctors saying his right lung was hopelessly wasted. He recovered, however, but when just able to hobble around he fell and broke his thigh bone, and was confined to the hospital again for six months. Since leaving, however, his physical condition has improved remarkably. His lungs began to open up until they became almost as well as ever; his skin shed off and a new skin grew, and his hair and beard, which were snow white, are coming out a jet black. His limbs and muscles have limbered up, and he started a week or so since to take a herd of young horses across a long trail to market. He says if he continues to grow young he will get married again and grow up with the country.

THERE is scarcely a husband who, during the past four months, has not urged his wife to learn to ride a wheel. There is scarcely a husband of the lot who does not now regret that he so urged her. He has found that it has added to his nervous impairment, in the ratio of about fifty per cent., and, in addition thereto, he has caught the "husband neck." This strange malady is caused by the constant craning of the neck, generally to the left, to see if the wife of one's bosom is safe. Even after the husband has found that his wife has really became a skilled rider, the habit remains. He can no more help turning his head, at short intervals, than he can help imagining that all sorts of dire disasters are befalling her.

THERE is a dog owner in Philadelphia who tells a story concerning his canine companion that tries the belief of his friends, but he vouches for its truth. The dog is an intelligent looking animal of the shepherd variety, and is frisky and full of fun. The particular trait of which its master boasts is that when he wants the animal to stay in one place it is not necessary to tie him up. All that is needed is to fasten one end of the rope to a convenient post and give the other end to the dog to hold in his mouth. The patient animal will sit for hours in this way, and would no more run away than he would fly.

WHEN dogs, cats and other animals carried long distances on cars and steamers, sometimes confined in bags and baskets, can, without asking any questions, find their way home, and birds traveling thousands of miles come back year after year to the same nests, and carrier pigeons to their dovecotes, it is pretty sure that they know some things to a knowledge of which no human being has yet attained. There is a vast field of animal intelligence to be studied, and the more we study the more we shall be filled with wonder and admiration.

At a meeting of the directors of the First National Bank on Monday a semi-annual dividend of six per cent. was declared.

Exposure to cold, damp winds, may result in pneumonia unless the system is kept invigorated with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. King has moved from Millersburg, and occupies the house of Miller and Peacock on West Fifth Street.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held last night. A full account of the proceedings will appear in the next issue of the COLUMBIAN.

The election last Tuesday passed off quietly, and the vote was very light. We give the official result of this County in another column of this issue.

The house which J. N. Webb has recently erected on Seventh Street presents a fine appearance since it has come from the hands of the painters.

The sewer is again causing trouble. Commissioner Housel has for some time had a gang of men trying to locate the stoppage, and last Sunday they found it near E. B. Tustin's on Columbia avenue.

Prof. Albert has been doing Institute work at Norristown during the past week. The services of the teachers of the Normal are in great demand at this time of the year.

The Gas Company are laying new pipe on Fourth Street, between Catharine and the Evangelical Church. The present pipe has been in use for fifteen years, and in some places had nearly rusted shut.

The work room of the tailoring establishment of J. R. Townsend has been enlarged by the removal of several partitions. This is a much needed improvement and aids materially to the transaction of business.

The station house had an inmate Saturday. He gave his name as James Young and residence Danville. Too much "booze" was the cause. At the hearing he was fined $3 and costs.

The excavation for the new Methodist church is rapidly being pushed to completion. A railing has been placed around the cellar to prevent accidents, and the earth is being used in filling North Street.

The planing mill of Creasy & Wells, and the Ice Plant, has been furnished with one of the American Damper Regulator Companys machines. It works very satisfactorily, and we understand they are in great demand.

D. A. Hall is erecting a dwelling house on the rear of his lot on Eighth Street. We doubt if there is a town any where which is enjoying the prosperity Bloomsburg is having. Go in any direction you wish, and you will find new buildings being erected, and others repaired.

The new dwelling house which Millard Ruch is building near the Carpet Mill is nearly completed, and will be ready for occupancy in a short time.

The house of C. W. Miller, known as the "Conner property" on East street has been raised and will be moved to the upper side of the lot. This will make room for the erection of another building, which we understand is to be done.

The following letters are advertised Nov. 5th, 1895. Miss L. Canning, Henry K. Kane, Miss Susie Kniss, Mr. Milton Shaffer, G. Taylor. Cards. Mr. S. L. Hall. Will be sent to the dead letter office November 19, 1895.

William Rehm is building an oven on his lot on West Third Street, and will engage in the bakery business in the near future. He is a practical baker, having had several years experience, and will undoubtedly make it a success.

Mr. Stanley O. Simpson, of Catawissa, and Miss Dora Hess, of Guava, Columbia County were united in holy matrimony on October 10th, by Rev. A. W. Houtz, at the residence of the officiating clergyman, in the presence of several friends. The couple will live at Catawissa.

The residence and store room which Mr. McGee is building on East Street will be ready for occupancy in a few days. When completed he intends carrying a large stock of confectionery, and will inform the public through the columns of the COLUMBIAN, of the extra ordinary inducements to purchasers.

An interesting service was held in St. Paul's Church last Sunday morning at 9:30. The Sunday School attended morning service, conducted by the Rector, Rev. D. N. Kirkby. in the church, and at the close, honor ribbons were presented to those who were entitled to them, by the superintendent, W. P. Meigs. The Sunday School has nearly doubled in size.

The stack for the electric light plant is being manufactured on the ground by E. Keeler & Co. of Williamsport. It is seventy feet long and four and a half feet in diameter. The other work at the plant is being pushed rapidly, as they are desirous of having it completed as soon as possible.

A delegation from Ent Post No. 250 G. A. R. went to Berwick last Saturday night to visit Capt. Jackson Post. It consisted of the following named Veterans. C. P. Sloan, Benj. Hicks, P. S. Moyer, W. C. Shaw, Nathan Fowler, Zach Thomas, W. R. Ringrose, W. O. Holmes, Daniel Laycock and Robert Morris. They speak highly of their reception and entertainment.

Very often Nature needs only a little help to get over an obstruction. When a boom of logs is floating down a river, all goes well until one single log strikes something and sticks. Then there's a "jam"—and trouble. It is just so in the progress of food through the digestive organs. Everything goes well till something sticks. Then the process of digestion stops. That's indigestion. Unless the impediment is removed, poisonous putrid matter begins to accumulate. There's a "jam"—constipation, and trouble. Sick headache, biliousness, sleeplessness, vertigo, heartburn, loss of appetite—these are some of the symptoms. Just a little help at the appearance of the first one would end the trouble. Nature is a hard worker, but she needs assistance if too much be put upon her.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets offer the best and simplest method for furnishing this assistance. They are prompt and very effective in their action, but they are not strong nor severe. They cause no violent wrench of the system. They go right to the "log" that is fast and loosen it. Nature does the rest. By and by, with a little care in dieting, Nature will do it all. That's one great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" over the many strongly cathartic pills—you do not become a slave to their use. They really cure the trouble they are meant to cure. Even the worst kind of chronic constipation disappears with their use.

CAUTION.—Some designing dealers do not permit their customers to have Dr. Pierce's Pellets because inferior pills afford greater profits. Such dealers are short sighted. They overlook the fact that next time you will go where you are supplied with what you ask for.

Information has been received announcing the death of Jacob L. Artley of Cleveland Township on last Friday morning. He was aged sixty four years, two months and eighteen days. He was survived by a wife and seven children.

Isaac Mordan, of Hemlock Township, while cutting wood last week with a double bit ax, met with an accident that came near causing his death. The ax caught in a clothes line and cut him severly on the top of his head.

L. E. Whary has placed steam heat in the brick house which E. B. Tustin has recently built on south Market street. It was done in short order. Work was commenced last Saturday noon and steam turned on Wednesday noon. There are ten radiators in the house, and the work was done by one man and a helper,

Daniel Ohl, a resident of Eyersgrove, died at his residence Friday afternoon at two o'clock. He left to survive him a wife, two daughters and a son. The funeral services were conducted from his late residence Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and the interment at the Dutch Hill cemetery.

Agnes, wife of John G. Cox. died Monday morning about five o'clock. She had been suffering from consumtion for about a year, and her death was not unexpected. She was about twenty-nine years of age. The funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the residence of Milton E. Cox on Iron Street, and the interment was in the Rosemont cemetery.

North street is being rapidly filled, and when the work on it is completed it will not only be a fine street, but will be a great convenience to the people residing in that part of the Town. The handsome residence of Paul E. Wirt which stands at the head of it present a fine appearance, and adds greatly to the value of the other property in that neighborhood.

The funeral of Christian Earnest on last Friday was largely attended. He was an honorary member of Camp 319 P. O. S. of A. of this place who had charge of the funeral. The interment was at New Columbus, and a large delegation from the Camp attended. They showed their appreciation of Mr. Earnest by sending a beautiful floral tribute in the shape of a pillow.

Contract Awarded.

The bids for the new vault in the Register and Recorder's office were opened last Thursday at 2 o'clock P. M. and were as follows:

B. W. Jury, $1230, Amos Treivelpiece, $1090 and Gorrey and Mellick $994.65. The contract was awarded to the last named at their bid.

HOLMES FOUND GUILTY.

The case of the Commonwealth against Herman W. Mudget alias H. H. Holmes, charged with the murder of Benjamin F. Pitezel in Philadelphia about the first of September, 1894, was committed to the hands of the jury Saturday afternoon. They came into Court Sunday evening with a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

At a meeting of the School Board at the High School building last Friday night, the principal, Prof. L. P. Sterner, submitted a list of books which it was proposed to purchase for the library. Our people generally are not aware of the fact that they have now a library of about one hundred volumes, and are constantly adding to it. This is of incalcuable benefit to the school, and any effort put forth to increase the same should be patronized by our people. The following resolution which is of interest to parents and pupils, was passed:

That if a pupil fails to make an average of 80 per cent. in class work at the end of a month, he and his parents be notified, that should he fail to make a higher average at the end of the next school month he will be set back to the next lower grade unless some satisfactory reason exists or cause be presented against such a reduction in grade.

By an oversight in proof reading last week in the obituary notice of Mrs. David Achenbach, her son's names were printed A. C. and Oscar Hagenbuch instead of Achenbach.

At the recent election in Benton township the polling place was changed from the "McHenry" house to "Hulmes mill" by a vote of 104 to 27.

Eliza, daughter of John K. Bittenbender whilst riding her bicycle in front of her home on Fifth Street Wednesday afternoon fell, breaking her arm. The fracture was reduced by Dr. J. W. Bruner.

Congratulations are in order. The citizens of Catawissa at the late election decided by a vote of 307 to 59 to build their own electric light plant. They are wiser than some of the surrounding Towns who make pretensions of knowing a thing or two. The Item done valiant service in the fight.

Benton Sunday School Insnitute.

Mr. W. R. Kocher, one of the leading Sunday School workers in the county, as per agreement, secured a special train to leave Bloomsburg for Benton on Saturday evening at 6.30, and with a congenial crowd of fifty or sixty we arrived at Benton on time, 7.30, and found the pretty M. E. Church packed from the pulpit to the back door, with many unable to gain admission. The services began with a praise number for 30 minutes conducted by F. B. Hartman with Mrs. Fred Holmes as organist, assisted by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra of our own town of which we are all proud.

Messrs. H. V. White, S. C. Creasy and Prof. C. H. Albert gave interesting and profitable addresses, alternated by selections from the Male Quartette, bass solo by O. H. Yetter, duet by Miss Hattie Ringrose and Ed. Ent, and a sacred selection by the orchestra.

Our party was pleasantly looked after, and made to feel at home by kindness shown us by Revs. Hutton and Owens, District Prest. R. T. Smith and Supt. Edwards. We all feel it was good to be there.

Attracts Attention.

The pavement and street in front of the mammouth clothing establishment of J. M. Gidding & Co. is crowded every night with people who are anxious to see the electric light sign in front of their place of business. It consists of about one hundred and fifty incandescents lights which are placed against the front of the building in such a manner as to spell the following Nov SALES. They come on, and off automatically. Some times the whole sign is visable, then all is dark. The letter N becomes visable, then O and so on until the whole sign is ablaze.

It is the most unique arrangement in the way of a sign ever displayed in the town, and the whole thing is in perfect keeping with the snag, push, and enterprise of Mr. Gidding. It has had the effect of adding to his already large number of customers, as they come to see the sign, and when shown the inducements they have in the way of clothing, they cannot resist the bargains, and depart, not only pleased with having seen the sights, but also with their purchase.

The Rain Spoiled the Fun.

The boys who had counted on raising Cain and duly celebrating All Hallow E'en, were knocked out by the inclemency of the weather. No very great depredations were reported, and the boys apparently contented themselves with throwing corn and other garden truck against houses and about the streets, turning in early out of the wet.

is where one needs discretion. Either may lead to destination, though one may be rough, long and hilly, while the other is short, smooth and level. It's best to investigate before you start. The road to success in business leads through a business education. There are Business Colleges on either fork. Investigate before you enter. You can learn a great deal about this one from our Journal (free for the asking), from graduates holding good positions in all parts of the country, and from business men who have employed them.

BUCK, WHITMORE & CO., Proprietors
ADAMS AVE. & LINDEN ST., SCRANTON.

You Notice That We Always Have Something Interesting to Say

That is the way of this store. Always something new or something extra cheap. We think you are anxious to learn of one as the other. Store news with us is never a long drawn out tale of trash that you don't want. Read the news for this week:

WOOLEN STOCKINGS

for women, girls and boys. A large line of good, honest and substantial hose. Buy one pair or a dozen. We are confident that you will come for more. Then there are those flannel lined hose for ladies. We never offered you a better hose for the money. You never saw a better one. Ask to see them, we mean the ones we sell at 25c. the pair. Others at different prices.

What Corset do You Wear?

Some one has told you some time ago that a certain corset was good. Yes, it was, but there are perhaps one or two makes that are better adapted to your figure. With our large stock and skilled corset sales people, we can give you the corset that you most need. Will you give us a trial?

Winter UNDERCLOTHING.

Underclothing isn't to be bought like sugar, at the store that sells the cheapest. We are not ashamed to admit that you can buy underwear cheaper, but emphatically not this underwear. Bring around a pair of those cheap (?) garments and we will compare notes.

WRAPS.

Boucles and cheviots, capes and coats lined and unlined. Here are almost any quantity of coats and capes that are stylish, comfortable and correctly valued. They are ready for you to see and buy if you choose. Those coats we advertised last week at $5.00 are rare bargains. Remember they are virtually the same coat we sold at $7.50; a saving to you of $2.50.

SHOES.

Stylish shoes, well made shoes, servicable shoes. That is the kind we sell. Shoes that give you the worth of your money. We want your shoe trade, and we will have it if you but give us a trial. We want you to try a pair of our shoes, such shoes as we sell, we will not be alarmed at your verdict.

LAMPS.

Our window is full of them. None more beautiful, or less expensive than now. All central draft burners, need not fear of an explosion. If you are in the market for a lamp don't buy until you have examined ours. Just come in and we will astonish you with our prices.

GROCERIES.

Things you need every day. Our corn 12½c. is the best we have, none better anywhere. Can't be equaled in town. Do you like apple and peach butter? If you do just try ours. It is elegant. Dried corn and canned peas, the best the market affords. Our 10c. tomatoes are just as good as you will pay 12½c. for elsewhere.

PURSEL & HARMAN,

Does it Pay.

The last term of United States Court which was held at Pittsburg, we are informed cost the the Government about $5000 and the amount of money involved was about $150. There were sixty nine cases of post office robbery, and the others were crimes against the coin. In one case of counterfeiting the defendant was charged with having passed 20 cents in counterfeit money.
